The Parenting Apart Programme

Supporting Parents & the Emotional Wellbeing of Children Through Separation & Divorce

The Programme

The Parenting Apart Programme supports parents who have made the decision to separate or divorce. The programme offers unique and individual advice and support which enables the outcome to be positive and beneficial to the whole family whilst prioritising the emotional and physical wellbeing of the children.

The Parenting Apart Programme is identified by Courts, Solicitors, and other professionals. It is an integral process which allows parents to take full responsibility as separated parents. This has been proven to reduce stress, trauma, conflict, time as well as the financial aspects of divorce and separation.

The programme is facilitated over a five week period and includes individual and joint face to face consultations, a personal Working Parents' Agreement, review meetings, telephone support and continued advice and guidance through it's duration.

The Benefits

The Parenting Apart Programme undoubtedly reduces the time and expense of Court proceedings. Court proceedings can be extremely traumatic and cause complete break down of communication between parents. It also alleviates the huge time delay which can be caused where the non-resident parent and child have no contact with each other.

The programme not only avoids Court proceedings, it gives parents back the control and responsibility in making decisions about the future for their child / children, rather than it being decided by a third party.

Another crucial part of the programme is to enable parents to communicate together, creating a more stable environment for the child / children, which benefits them enormously, emotionally. This reduces the risk of any long term damage to the child /ren's relationships.

The fact that the programme enables parents to make their own decisions on future plans, the outcomes / solutions are more beneficial to the whole family as they have made their own choices and commitments.

Working Parents Agreement

At the beginning of The Parenting Apart Programme, parents are supported and guided to form their 'New Parenting Relationship'. This allows parents to compile their own individual Working Parents Agreement which they commit to in the best interests of their child / children. The Working Parents Agreement identifies many important issues including contact arrangements, residency, holidays, schooling and most importantly the child's / children's wishes, feelings and emotional wellbeing.

The Working Parents Agreement has proven to be invaluable when compiling and agreeing any contact arrangement. The Working Parents Agreement can be filed alongside a Court order to confirm arrangements made by the parents if required.
